New Banner and Menu – Menu Display

Menu ▾

Click on  will slide the menu up & down – causing all content to move up & down the screen...

The menu options displayed will depend on the User Group permissions.
